Mercantile Bank was founded in 1997 by a group of entrepreneurs who believed that customers, employees, and the communities they live in are best served by financial institutions with local ties. In 2014 Mercantile Bank and Firstbank Corporation completed a merger. Both organizations brought extensive history of local decision making and personalized customer service allowing us to become the third largest Michigan-based bank by deposit today!

Here at Mercantile Bank we have more than 700 employees throughout Michigan and Ohio. We look for people who are passionate about the communities they serve inside and outside of the Bank.

Supporting our communities is a vital part of who we are and what we do at Mercantile Bank. Our mission is to deliver financial solutions that empower people to achieve their goals and dreams.

Mercantile Bank stands out because when we say we are a community bank, we mean it. Our roots go deep into the communities we serve allowing us to give exceptional customer service. Our strong commitment to our communities doesn't end at donations: Community development lending, employee volunteer hours, financial education classes and other initiatives continue to work alongside of our foundation to strengthen our ties in our local communities.

We strive to be as generous as possible with financial support but also know our responsibility goes far beyond that. Employee participation in community and volunteer events is a large part of Mercantile culture. From walks, runs, and bike-a-thons to dinner auctions, and galas, you can always find a Merc employee among the guest list.

As a community bank, Mercantile recognizes the value of working with strong, vibrant communities like Remus. And because this is our home too, we know supporting our friends and neighbors here is one of the most important things we can do.

We live out our core values every day as we provide innovative products and services, delivered with unparalleled customer service – now and in the future.

In both the short term and long term, Mercantile Bank would like to continue supporting our friends and neighbors in the communities we serve through financial donations, volunteer efforts, and premier banking services for all. In 10 years we hope to be serving even more communities than we do now.

Stop in or call our team in Remus and let us show you all of the great things we have to offer.
